IMPACT INTERNATIONAL YOUTH

THE I I Y AMBASSADOR PROGRAMME

An opportunity to represent our mission, connect with young people, and help our community grow.

INTERESTED IN BECOMING AN IIY AMBASSADOR?

What does an Ambassador do?

The role is focused on outreach, communication, and community growth. Ambassadors are expected to:

- Promote IIY: Share the organisation's mission, initiatives, events, webinars, and opportunities through appropriate channels.
- Connect with people: Introduce IIY to friends, classmates, youth communities, and others who may be interested.
- Encourage participation: Direct interested individuals to the official Join Us form and explain how they can get involved.
- Support recruitment: Help identify people who may be interested in volunteering or contributing to IIY's work.
- Represent the organisation: Communicate respectfully and share accurate, approved information about IIY.
- Record contributions: Submit the Proof of Work Form for activities so that contributions can be verified and recognised.

GETTING STARTED

How the Programme Works

A simpleprocessforsharingopportunitiesandhavingyourcontributionsrecorded.

1. Your unique Ambassador Code

Each accepted ambassador receives a unique Ambassador Code. This code connects referrals and reported activities to the correct ambassador. Keep it available and use it consistently whenever you promote IIY.

2. Sharing the Join Us form

When someone is interested in joining IIY, share the official Join Us form with them and provide your Ambassador Code. Ask them to enter the code in the referral-code field before submitting. This allows IIY to identify that the person was referred by you and record the contribution.

3. Submitting the Proof of Work Form

Use the Proof of Work Form to report outreach or promotional activities you have completed for IIY. Include your Ambassador Code, a clear description of the activity, and relevant supporting information such as screenshots or referral details where applicable. This helps the team verify and track your work.

4. Certificate of Ambassadorship

You become eligible to receive your Certificate of Ambassadorship once either of these has been recorded:

- You submit a Proof of Work Form using your Ambassador Code; or
- Someone submits the Join Us form and includes your Ambassador Code.

5. Growing beyond ambassadorship

Ambassadorship can be a starting point for greater involvement. If you feel ready to take on more responsibility, contribute to a team function, or volunteer for an available position, you may apply to join the IIY team at any time. Applications from current ambassadors receive priority processing. The team will aim to review them promptly and arrange any necessary interviews or discussions.

IIY also conducts periodic evaluations of ambassador participation and contributions. Where the relevant leadership considers an ambassador suitable for a larger role, they may be invited directly to join the team. Any such invitation comes from the authorised person in charge and is subject to the organisation's needs.

Guidelines for representing IIY

- Be respectful and inclusive. Treat everyone professionally and never pressure anyone to participate.
- Use the official identity correctly. Use approved IIY logos and materials. Do not stretch, recolour, crop, alter, or recreate the logo without permission.
- Share accurate information. Do not announce unconfirmed events, partnerships, opportunities, or organisational decisions.
- Respect confidentiality. Keep internal discussions, personal information, applications, and private documents within the organisation.
- Do not make unauthorised commitments. Do not claim to speak for IIY on matters outside your role or promise benefits or outcomes that have not been approved.
- Ask when uncertain. Contact the IIY team before publishing material or making statements if you are unsure whether they are approved.
